Join our Racial Justice Champions

– And make a difference

The Diocese of Norwich Education Team is looking for passionate individuals with lived experience to join our group of Racial Justice Champions. This is an opportunity to work alongside educators who are working to drive change in their schools and across Norfolk. You could be at the forefront of change, helping schools create more inclusive, fair, and just environments for all students.

Our Vision is to create a legacy of equity and inclusion across schools, where racial justice is championed, fostering environments where all people feel valued, empowered, and united.

You'll have the opportunity to:

- Work in small groups to collaborate on projects in areas like antiracism curriculum development, pupil voice projects, pupil exchanges, days of celebration resources and events, and community engagement projects.
- Share ideas and create meaningful resources, projects and ideas for schools to use with their young people.
- Help empower young people to speak up against injustice.
- Collaborate with a supportive network of committed individuals.
- Be a part of a pioneering project that is already gaining interest beyond Norfolk, helping to drive change on a larger scale.

You don't need to work in education. Your perspective matters!

We're looking for …

… people with a passion for racial justice with lived experience.
… community members who want to make a difference in schools.
… people who can commit to 2,3 or 4 days over 18-month period
… those who want to collaborate and take action!
